

WHY SCHOOL BOYS EVADE CADET DUTY

Not Due to Laziness or Athletics, Says Dr.
Small.

MANY ARE TOO SMALL TO CARRY A MUSKET

Physical Disability and Objection of Parents Also Held to Be Responsible.

Denying that a large percentage of high school boys evade military duty because of participation in athletics or because they are too lazy, as was intimated by Bruce Browning in a letter in the Mail Bag column of the Sunday evening edition of The Washington Times, Dr. W. S. Small, president of the High School Principals' Association, today gave out a statement defending the non-military high school pupils.

The letter which called forth the statement from Dr. Small, pointed out that of 1,788 boys enrolled in the five white high schools of the District, but 581 are members of the cadet corps.

"Is the lack of interest in this excellent organization due to the parents or to the boys, who are lazy?" the letter asks. "If the boys who stand on the curbs would join the ranks the companies would be stronger, and would especially help the smaller schools."

Dr. Small's Reasons.

"If the writer wishes the reasons for the non-enlistment of boys they can easily be had," said Dr. Small. "And in my opinion only a very, very small percentage of these boys do not enlist because they are lazy or are not interested in the cadets."

The reasons for the non-enlistment of cadets, Dr. Small said, were generally to be found among the following:

Boys too small to carry regulation musket. This applies to about 15 per cent of entrants into first year course.

Physical disability other than size.

Boys regularly employed after school hours.

Parents disbelieve in militarism.

Expense of an extra suit too heavy.

"The athletics at Eastern are so aranged that they do not conflict with the drills," Dr. Small said. "The companies are out but two evenings a week, and the athletic practice hours are set on the remaining evenings."

Puts Blame On Athletics.

That athletics was the cause of non-enlistment in many cases was the opinion of E. M. Wilson, principal of Central High School.

"The drill takes up at least four hours a week of a boy's time, and if he goes in for athletics he may find both activities too much," said Mr. Wilson. "Enlistment is compulsory only where the boy does not have a request from his parents to remain out of the organization. The principals have no discretion in the matter if the parent does not wish a boy to drill."

AUXILIARY HOSPITAL URGED BY CITIZENS

The Commissioners today received from the Columbia Heights Citizens' Association a copy of a resolution urging the establishment in Columbia Heights of an auxiliary hospital.

It is suggested that the most feasible plan would be to include in the estimate an appropriation for the establishment of an emergency department in Garfield Hospital.

"The appropriation," says W. B. Todd, secretary of the association, in a letter to the Commissioners, "should be sufficient to erect a building, if necessary; to provide for the maintenance of surgeons and nurses; to purchase supplies and to install an ambulance."

"A private street or alley should be opened through the grounds from Eleventh street to Sherman avenue, in order to provide quick and easy access to the hospital. This location would be admirably adapted to the emergency hospital needs of the territory comprising the Tenth and Eleventh police precincts."

The association recommends also that a site be purchased north of Florida avenue and west of Georgia avenue for the site of a new Central High School, and that provision be made for the purchase of the tract of land at the corner of Fourteenth street and Columbia road, in order that the temporary playground, which is now located at that point, may be made a permanent institution.

Consideration of the association's requests will be given by the Commissioners in the preparation of their annual estimates, upon which they are now engaged.

PLACED ON RETIRED LIST.

John C. Wise, of Maryland, medical director and senior officer of the medical corps of the navy, has been placed on the retired list on account of age.

SCIENTISTS REVIEW STUDY OF DISEASE

Investigation of Typhoid,
Pellagra, and Infantile Paralysis Analyzed.

Celebrated pathologists, bacteriologists and members of the medical science met in the offices of the Public Health and Hospital Service, at New Jersey avenue and E streets southeast, today to discuss their recent investigations in this country of typhoid fever, pellagra, infantile paralysis, tuberculosis, and the life history of the cholera bacillus from a scientific standpoint.

The scientific men, in meeting today, are members of the regular advisory board of the United States Hygienic Laboratory. Their investigations into the origin, treatment, prevention, and spread of these diseases have covered a period of several months.

The result of their deliberations, especially in regard to infantile paralysis and pellagra, are expected to prove of vast importance to the service, and of great value to municipal and Government health bureaus all over the country.

The session will last all day today, and, perhaps, part of tomorrow. The sessions of the meeting are executive, the public not being admitted. However, the surgeon general announces that he will issue an official statement as to what the advisory board has done, and what further action will be taken following the deliberations of today and tomorrow.

CONVICT ESCAPES FROM ANNAPOLIS

Washington police have been requested by Sheriff Frank Revell, of Annapolis, to keep a sharp lookout for Stephen Blake, a young negro, who escaped from the jail some time early this morning, and who is supposed to be on his way to this city.

In the telegram received by Major Sylvester this morning, the man is described as being of unusually dark complexion, about five feet ten inches in height, and wore blue overalls and slippers. He is also decorated with leg irons and a portion of heavy chain.

KAISER TELLS TAFT ROOSEVELT IS GREAT

Brother of President Guest At Banquet With Emperor of Germany.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Henry W. Taft, brother of the President, accompanied by his wife, following a visit of two months to Europe, during which time they witnessed the "Passion Play" and saw 60,000 German troops parade before the Kaiser at Tempelhof, arrived here today on the George Washington, of the North German line.

Mr. Taft said that in the course of a banquet that night he asked the Emperor what he thought of Mr. Roosevelt.

"Mr. Roosevelt," the Kaiser replied, "is a wonderful man. I admire him very much. He is a man who is not afraid to say what he thinks. Those men always make friends."

When asked concerning the political situation of the country Mr. Taft replied that while abroad he had paid little attention to political affairs in this country. He said, however, that he was positive the Republican party would be returned victorious in the coming State election and in the national election in 1912.

MESSANGER BOY HURT IN FALL FROM WHEEL

Joseph Stadlin, a sixteen-year-old messenger boy, was thrown from his bicycle at Seventh and K streets this morning and taken to the Emergency Hospital in the ambulance. His injuries, which consist chiefly of bruises on the face, are not dangerous, and he will be out in a day or two.

He was riding at a fast pace when a big black dog got in front of the wheel.

TAILORS TO HOLD SHOW.

A national style show will be a principal feature of the convention of the National Association of Merchant Tailors of America to be held here next February.

This was decided upon at a meeting of the association held in New York city. The exhibits will include women's garments. The organization has a branch here, of which George Peabody is president.
